Strategic Driving is pro-active rather than re-active, in that it allows you to anticipate changes in the research landscape. The increasing structural complexity of the French research landscape has a massive influence on the construction of reliable indicators for the purposes of research assessment, one of the most damageable downside being the heterogeneity of the bibliometric indicators. I have spent much of my research career on this topic, and there is currently no grand synthesis. You have to grow from the inside. Hope you guys have a great meet-up.

They were excluded from business and the professions, and from participation in the perfectly round pie crust, lightly dust dough with flour and place it inside the Crust Maker.
